growing

the permanent fund

At the heart of everything the Community Foundation has been able to accomplish in the last 8 years is The Permanent Fund for Northern Virginia, our permanent community endowment.

Today, The Permanent Fund fuels most of our community leadership work. It is the primary source of funding that enables the Community Foundation to respond to the most critical needs in our region and make philanthropic investments in new and innovative ideas. Hundreds of the region’s most well managed and essential nonprofits have received support from The Permanent Fund over the years.

We began to build The Permanent Fund in 2009. Today it stands at approximately $3.4 million. This past year, the Community Foundation launched a campaign to grow The Permanent Fund to $7 million, setting a deadline of June 30, 2019 to get there.

Many forward-thinking Northern Virginians have already made gifts to The Permanent Fund. Some have made gifts from their existing donor advised funds, either recommending grants from their funds to The Permanent Fund or even pouring their entire fund balance into it. Some donors have promised bequests to further boost the Fund’s size and impact. Others have made current contributions in support of this important, collective effort to build a permanent source of unwavering support for our region.

One thing is true of all donors to The Permanent Fund – They have literally helped shape the future of our region.

We hope you enjoy this Annual Report and the stories it contains of our wonderful growth and impact during 2017. As we have said many times, we do nothing alone at the Community Foundation. It is our honor and pleasure to serve you, engage you in local philanthropy, partner with you for greater impact, and build a community that works for everyone, together.

about the community foundation for northern virginia

The Community Foundation for Northern Virginia is a visionary funder that has directed millions of charitable dollars to people in need since 1978. Our mission is to grow philanthropy to respond to critical need and seed innovation in the region.

OUR VALUES

The Community Foundation for Northern Virginia is committed to building a community that works for everyone.

Our community is stronger when all people are respected, welcomed, and invited to share their assets and contributions in community building.

We work to bring about a more equitable and inclusive prosperity that marries our economic strength with the full breadth of our diverse community.

We are wholeheartedly devoted to our neediest neighbors and most vulnerable and marginalized populations, and work tirelessly to better meet their needs.

Please join us in grant making, dialogue, outreach and advocacy.

the permanent fund for northern virginia

DONOR FEATURE

“There is so much need in Northern Virginia. Deep pockets of poverty persist in our region. Today more than 82,000 children qualify for free and reduce fee lunches. There is little doubt that new, innovative solutions to persistent social issues are needed. That is why we decided to support The Permanent Fund. It gave us an opportunity to join with others in our community to help build a meaningful, robust, and flexible source of philanthropic capital for Northern Virginia.”

— Bernard and Daphne Mustafa

Northern Virginia is one of the most desirable places to live, work and play in the entire country. However, with more than 409,000 of our residents living at or below 200 percent of the Federal Poverty Level, the need for philanthropic investments has never been greater.

In 2017, the Community Foundation launched a campaign to grow The Permanent Fund for Northern Virginia, a permanent community endowment that provides critical support for those in need, seeds innovation, and makes a lasting difference in our community, forever. Currently, The Permanent Fund stands at $3.4 million. Our goal is to grow it to $7 million by June of 2019.

There is no single formula for a region’s permanent state of success. We must constantly re-create, reimagine, and reengage our community to make it ever more vibrant, inclusive and equitable. The Permanent Fund will be the primary source of our capacity to reinvent our community and help shape the region’s future.

community wealth building

The Community Foundation for Northern Virginia launched the Innovation Breakfast Series in 2015 to highlight the idea that philanthropy can help create a more equitable, inclusive, and diverse economy.

Our community was particularly inspired after one such Innovation Breakfast in May of 2017. The topic of discussion was “Community Wealth Building,” a systems approach to economic development first described by The Democracy Collaborative, that “creates an inclusive, sustainable economy built on locally rooted and broadly-held ownership.” This powerful event featured Ted Howard, Co-Founder and President of The Democracy Collaborative, and Yanique Redwood, President and CEO of the Consumer Health Foundation in Washington, D.C.

The event sparked a much broader community dialogue on how Northern Virginia could implement its own expression of Community Wealth Building and help lift the “hard to employ” segment of our workforce out of poverty. To build momentum and move the initiative forward, the Community Foundation retained The Democracy Collaborative and convened a task force of over 35 community volunteers who are now exploring strategies to help build the region’s capacity to engage in Community Wealth Building.

2017 CHAIRMAN’S AWARDS

The 2017 Chairman’s Awards were presented on May 11, 2017 at the Innovation Breakfast for outstanding Community Partners. Four local education foundations received awards for partnering with the Community Foundation to launch new skills-based courses in cyber security and computer science.

- SPARK, the Education Foundation for Prince William County, represented by its Executive Director, Sharon Henry
- The City of Manassas Public Schools Education Foundation, represented by its Executive Director, Katy Keegan

- The Loudoun Education Foundation, represented by board member Wes Clark

In addition, an award was presented to the Giving Circle of HOPE in honor of its $1 million grantmaking milestone celebration.

“Northern Virginia is one of the most prosperous areas of our nation. And yet many families are being left behind. The Community Foundation for Northern Virginia’s commitment to economic inclusion—ensuring all residents have a meaningful stake in the economy—is inspiring. Working with a team of experienced volunteers, the Community Foundation is producing important insights and recommendations that local government, business and anchor institutions can draw on to build community wealth for all.”

— Ted Howard, President & Co-Founder, The Democracy Collaborative

the latino engagement and achievement fund

“LEAF is an innovative, systemic approach to community building in the region’s Latino community. We are grateful to its many donors and supporters who have joined with us on this important journey. The possibilities are endless!”

— Diana Katz, co-founder of LEAF

This year, the Community Foundation launched the Latino Engagement and Achievement Fund (LEAF) to promote and invest in the civic engagement, education, economic success, naturalization, health, leadership development, volunteerism, and advocacy of the Latino community in our region. Inspired by a 2016 Aspen Institute Latinos & Society Program report titled “Unlocking Latino Civic Potential: 2016 and Beyond,” two visionary Northern Virginia leaders, Paty Funegra and Diana Katz, established this committee advised fund at the Community Foundation to create a source of strategic funding that will strengthen and encourage the Latino community now and for generations to come. Seventy five percent of contributions to LEAF are being used to build a lasting endowment in this field of interest. Twenty five percent of contributions will be used for current year grant making and immediate impact.

According to the Pew Research Center, 57% of all Latinos in the Commonwealth of Virginia reside in Northern Virginia, accounting for over 400,000 of our 2.5 million local residents. LEAF will help promote the full participation of this large and growing segment of our population in the civic, social, and economic life of our region.

LEAF launched on Thursday, April 13th, at a media event the Community Foundation hosted at the Northern Virginia Chamber of Commerce in Tysons Corner, VA. The event featured Javier Palomarez, President of the U.S. Hispanic Chamber of Commerce, and Abigail Golden-Vazquez, Executive Director of the Latinos & Society Program at the Aspen Institute. They each shared their enthusiasm for LEAF’s current focus and its continuing potential to help the local Latino community grow and thrive.

The Community Foundation will conduct a competitive grant cycle for all awards from LEAF, with the goal of awarding impact grants of $20,000 to $25,000 annually.

our children fund: supporting foster care children in fairfax

Thanks to the vision and generosity of Deborah G. Matthews, a local trust and estate attorney, who is devoted to supporting foster children, the Community Foundation established the Our Children Fund in March 2017 to support the approximately 260 children in the Fairfax County foster care system.

The Our Children Fund benefits children between the ages of birth and 17 years of age and young adults between the ages of 18 and 21 if permanency (return home, relative placement, or adoption) is not achieved. The Fund is primarily intended to provide access to “normalizing” items and experiences that address these children’s otherwise unmet medical, social, emotional and educational needs. For example, the Fund can pay the costs related to before and after school extracurricular activities, summer and school break enrichment activities, tutors, tuition, computers and other technology, program and participation fees, sports fees, arts programs, uninsured dental, medical and mental health services, and the like.

One 16 year old boy was having a very great deal of trouble completing his homework for the last year because his foster family did not have a computer or printer. Now he owns his own computer, thanks to the Our Children Fund, and will have access to the online information and resources he needs from now on wherever he goes.

The Our Children Fund accepts applications on a rolling basis and purchases the requested items, activities or services directly for the foster child. Those interested in supporting our children in the local foster care system are encouraged to make a donation to support this Fund. More information is available on the Community Foundation’s website at www.cfnova.org/our-children.

“I created the Our Children Fund at the Community Foundation to build a dedicated source of support for the daily, immediate, and unmet needs of children in the Fairfax County foster care program and young adults for whom permanency has not yet been achieved. It is critically important that our foster children are not forgotten. They are in the foster care system because they are victims. They have done nothing wrong. If the Our Children Fund helps just one child in foster care feel more normal and supported, it will be worth it.”

– Deborah G. Matthews, Trust and Estate Attorney

NOVA PARKS: new funds engage our community with nature

“We partnered with the Community Foundation to create three funds this year to support our mission. In particular, our NOVA Parks Outdoor Kids Fund is helping connect children with nature and outdoor play in a way that will have meaningful benefits for these young people. This year, ten elementary schools in high need areas were given grants to help classes enjoy field trips to Hemlock Overlook Regional Park and 2,000 children in City/County run summer camps were provided a day in one of NOVA Parks water parks.”

— Paul Gilbert, Executive Director, NOVA Parks

Over 12,000 acres in Northern Virginia are preserved by the Northern Virginia Regional Park Authority (NOVA Parks), a regional 501(c)(3) public charity dedicated to planning, acquiring, operating and maintaining a wonderful system of regional parks and properties that many Northern Virginians regularly enjoy.

We have all benefited, and will continue to benefit, from the conservation efforts of NOVA Parks every time we get water from the tap, because over 9,000 acres of NOVA Parks property protect the Potomac River and our major reservoirs. These protected lands offer countless opportunities for us to reconnect with nature while hiking, biking, camping, boating, or just being in a beautiful, expansive outdoor setting. At the same time, these lands provide sanctuary for endangered animal and plant species like the Eastern Wood Turtle and the Small Whorled Pogonia, while also preserving existing local habitats for Bald Eagles, Great Blue Herons and many other species.

This year, NOVA Parks partnered with the Community Foundation for Northern Virginia and opened three new funds to engage children with nature, enhance and protect existing park space, and support an endowment for Temple Hall Farm Regional Park. They include the NOVA Parks Fund, which supports the Northern Virginia Regional Park Authority itself and its important mission, The NOVA Parks Outdoor Kids Fund, which awards grants to elementary schools, park and recreation departments, and nonprofits in Northern Virginia that support outdoor teambuilding, nature education and science education for children, and The NOVA Parks Endowment For Temple Hall Farm Regional Park, which will forever support and help maintain the Temple Hall Farm Regional Park in Loudoun County.

the giving circle of HOPE's million milestone

One way that the Community Foundation helps respond to critical need is by hosting four giving circles, each very different and impactful in its own way. A giving circle is a form of participatory philanthropy where individual donors connect personally and professionally, learn about the needs of the region, and donate at affordable levels to a pooled fund that supports the causes they choose to care about. The Giving Circle of HOPE is our oldest giving circle that was established in 2004 to create positive change in Northern Virginia through its unique brand of engaged and collective philanthropy.

Over the years the GCH has evolved into a group of concerned and generous local citizens who do so much more than grant making. They are award-winning leaders in local philanthropy who also make vital connections, create and provide resources, and advocate effectively on the nonprofit sector's behalf.

This year, the GCH celebrated a major milestone. To date, more than $1 million has been raised and granted out by the GCH to help meet the most critical needs of our region. Its members held a special celebratory event on November 17th during which they recognized their founding donors, honored their current leaders, and built momentum to continue their important work.

At the Community Foundation for Northern Virginia, we are honored that the GCH continues to use us as its charitable giving partner that offers its members an effective, inexpensive, and convenient tax deductible charitable giving vehicle. It is a synergistic partnership that has fostered a co-learning environment for us all.

“Reaching the important milestone of creating positive change through our collective investment of over one million dollars in local community has re-energized the Giving Circle of HOPE. Through the next decade we are committed to gaining an ever deeper understanding of the needs of the underserved in Northern Virginia and provide transformative impact through the GCH community and our collective philanthropic investment.”

- Cyndi Shanahan, Governance Chair, Giving Circle of HOPE

innovation fund grant to george mason university's honey bee initiative

“The Community Foundation for Northern Virginia’s investment has allowed the George Mason University Honey Bee Initiative to leverage innovators, educators, student teams and community partners to address a critical food security issue, namely the honey bee crisis. This grant funded the development and launch of student run sustainable businesses, innovative beekeeping co-curricular programming, and community involvement in our educational apiaries.”

— Lisa M. Gring-Pemble, Ph.D., Director, Social Entrepreneurship and Global Impact, Center for Innovation and Entrepreneurship School of Business, George Mason University

How can local students meaningfully and actively engage on a pressing social issue and take action?

The Center for Innovation and Entrepreneurship at George Mason University is finding out.

Honey bees are in crisis world wide. Their health is critical to our food supply and our very survival. Bees are the most important pollinator in the world, helping to produce one-third of the food we consume. Colony collapse disorder, invasive mites, and pesticides are killing honey bees at an alarming rate. In Virginia alone the number of hives has dropped by two-thirds since 1970.

In 2017 the Innovation Fund at the Community Foundation awarded a $25,000 grant to George Mason University’s Center for Innovation and Entrepreneurship to help expand and accelerate their Honey Bee Initiative. The grant supported the development of entrepreneurial and multidisciplinary business models around honey bees, offered stipends and internships to students interested in studying this field of interest, and implemented two “Smart-Hive Hack-a-Thons” that promoted some promising and innovative technological solutions for monitoring hive health.

Launched in 2012, the Innovation Fund is an endowed discretionary fund that invests in inventiveness, creativity and new design across our service area. As such, it is the primary source of seed funding for innovative social solutions at the Community Foundation.

Alexandria City Public Schools - Capoeira-A Cultural Exchange, $2,000
Alexandria

CAPOEIRA is an Afro-Brazilian art form that brings together martial arts, acrobatics, dance, percussion, and songs. This project helped increase physical activity among 25 9th-12th graders and provided an educational, cultural, and historical platform for all students.

Belmont Station Elementary School - Eat Right, Move and Recite, $1,500
Loudoun County

This project helped 4th and 5th graders to collaborate and create content-rich fitness and nutrition music/dance videos. Technology will be used to make videos available to all students on the Loudoun Creates channel and can be used as brain breaks for all classroom teachers in LCPS.

Bonnie Brae Elementary School - Promoting Healthy Eating through Gardening, $1,200
Fairfax County

This project helped increase healthy eating among 135 Head Start and kindergarten students, many of whom are from at-risk families, by growing vegetables and herbs for their own consumption.

Carlin Springs Elementary School - Carlin Spring Bikes!, $2,000
Arlington

This project allowed school staff to teach bicycling skills to all students, thus encouraging exercise through biking and promoting cycling as a life-long fitness activity which can be done outside of school as a fun, inexpensive, and environmentally friendly mode of transportation.

Coles Elementary School - Fit Packs, $1,000
Prince William County

Fit Packs allowed every student in grades K-5 to share fitness with their family over the weekend as well as practice academic skills.

Drew Model School - Healthy Habits for our Drew Dragons, $2,000
Arlington

This project helped increase physical activity for girls and boys in grades 3-5 by offering a girls' running team and a boys' running team in the upcoming school year. The sessions will be held in the morning before the school day begins, ensuring the students start the day with physical activity.

Francis C. Hammond Middle School - Teen Cuisine, $2,000
Alexandria

This grant allowed 45 middle school students to participate in the after-school Teen Cuisine program, which aims to increase consumption of fruits, vegetables, whole grains and low-fat dairy, while teaching cooking, nutrition and food safety.

Langston Hughes Middle School-Hughes MS Hip Hop Dance Program, $2,000
Fairfax County

This project increased physical activity among 150 7th and 8th graders by encouraging students to dance for an hour or two after school each week. The program aims to increase physical activity through Hip Hop dance for students that might not participate in other physical activities such as a sport.

Legacy Elementary School - Healthy Kids Give Back, $1,800
Loudoun County

Kindergarten students learned what it means to be healthy and active through a variety of lessons exploring healthy food choices and fun physical activities. They created “I’m a healthy kid” posters and choose healthy tools to pack backpacks to give to a local low-income kindergarten class.

Parkside Middle School - Functional Fitness, $2,000
Prince William County

This project created a more functional fitness room and tools to assess and motivate 1250 6-8th graders during Physical Education (P.E.). The goal was to increase activity with easy to use tools and pedometers that students may not have access to at home.

Pine Brook Elementary - Step Up, $1,900
Loudoun County

This project helped increase moderate to vigorous activity time for 450 students as they will wear pedometers during Physical Education (P.E.) class and analyze data collected.

Potomac Falls High School - Mindfulness and Movement in the Schools, $2,000
Loudoun County

This grant funded an 8-week pilot study to assess the effectiveness of stress reduction by teaching mindfulness techniques to increase resiliency skills in high school students. They learned the fundamentals of mindfulness and meditative arts movements such as yoga and tai-chi.

Potomac View Elementary School - Getting Fit at the “View”, $1,500
Prince William County

This initiative helped increase physical activity among 4th and 5th grade boys and girls through soccer and running. Approximately 65 students were eligible to participate in a mentoring program that encouraged fitness, as well as good nutrition and personal goals.

Potowmack Elementary School - Eat, Play, Learn $1,600
Loudoun County

An integrated curriculum including seed-to-table nutrition education and universally designed movement activities fostered healthy eating habits, a love of physical activity, and improved motor competence for approximately 22 preschoolers in early childhood special education classes.

Taylor Elementary School - Eat Smart and MOO-ve, $2,000
Arlington

The Eat Smart and MOO-ve program combined promoting increased fruit and vegetable consumption with the goal for each student to complete a 100-mile, “Moo-ve to Richmond” challenge during in-school Physical Education (P.E.) classes.

Rockledge Elementary School - Nutrition and Fitness Programs at Rockledge ES, $1,800
Prince William County

This program strived to increase the health and activity level of Rockledge Elementary School students and families by offering a free Bike Rodeo, a family walking club, and nutritious meals as part of SOL Night.

Westfield High School - Girl’s Only Fitness Class, $2,000
Fairfax County

This class educated female students who are not athletic team participants or in Physical Education (P.E.) class about a healthy diet, the importance of 60 minutes of activities, and what they can do to stay healthy and fit for the rest of their lives. The goal was to change the way these girls think, feel and see themselves.

Thank you to the 2016-2017 Healthy Kids Grants Committee: Jesse Ellis, Joan Kasprowicz, Amy Kay, Susan Nolan, and Rhonda Richardson

community leadership award

PRESENTED TO J. KNOX SINGLETON, CEO OF INOVA HEALTH SYSTEM

The Community Foundation's Community Leadership Award is presented annually for outstanding community service and dedication to improving the quality of life for all Northern Virginians. At the 2016 Raise the Region Gala, this prestigious award went to J. Knox Singleton, CEO of Inova Health System.

Inova is the Washington, D.C. region's leading nonprofit healthcare system serving more than 2 million people annually.

Since joining the organization in 1983, Mr. Singleton has led Inova's evolution from a collection of small, stand-alone hospitals into an award winning health system, nationally recognized for clinical excellence, innovation

Mr. Singleton has led Inova's evolution from a collection of small, stand-alone hospitals into an award winning health system and outstanding patient care. Inova's comprehensive network comprises hospitals, outpatient services and facilities, primary and specialty care practices, and health and wellness initiatives.

Under Mr. Singleton's stewardship, Inova is now a leader in genomics and personalized health, which uses an individual's genetic make-up to predict and prevent disease. His leadership has also driven a paradigm-shifting strategy of health promotion and optimization that anticipates and helps prevent illness. The Inova Center for Personalized Health is at the heart of this vision, a place that connects researchers, clinicians and consumers and transforms medicine from a reactive to a predictive model.

In keeping with Inova's community service mission, Mr. Singleton is an active member of organizations that improve lives both here and abroad. He serves on several boards and is co-founder of the Global Good Fund, which works to coach and mentor future leaders. Additionally, he is co-founder and past president of the Community Coalition for Haiti, which creates community-driven solutions in healthcare, education, and community development in Haiti.

Numerous personal accolades include Citizen of the Year (The Washington Post, 1990); Community Care Award for Health (Northern Virginia Community Foundation, 1993); Distinguished Regent's Award (American College of Health Care Executives, 2000); Distinguished Leadership Award (Washington Chapter of the American Jewish Committee, 2000); Virginia Governor's Award (Governor Mark Warner, 2004); 300 Hospital and Health System Leaders to Know (Becker's Hospital Review, 2012); 100 Most Influential People in Healthcare finalist (Modern Healthcare, 2013 and 2014); CEO of the Year (Washington Business Journal, 2015), and Virginia Businessperson of the Year (Virginia Business Magazine, 2015.) In 2009, he was inducted into the Washington Business Hall of Fame, which honors outstanding business leaders for significant contributions to the quality of life in greater Washington.

Mr. Singleton is a Phi Beta Kappa graduate of the University of North Carolina, where he earned a Bachelor of Science degree in business administration in 1970. He received his Master's degree in health administration from Duke University in 1973. He holds honorary degrees from Northern Virginia Community College and Cumberland College in Williamsburg, KY. He is married to Tracy Fitzsimmons and together they have seven children.

Mr. Singleton is an active member of organizations that improve lives both here and abroad.

BRUINS IN ACTION

“Lake Braddock Secondary School (LBSS) developed and piloted the philanthropy based Bruins In Action (BIA) Capstone Project during the 2016-2017 school year to provide each of our eighth grade students with an enriching and authentic academic experience that celebrates the end of their middle school years. Throughout the school year, LBSS eighth graders learn about philanthropy as part of each core subject by focusing on this guiding inquiry, ‘How can you, as a philanthropist, mobilize private sector and/or public sector resources to address an important issue impacting the Northern Virginia region?’

An integral component of this project is the Bruins in Action Donor Advised Fund established at the Community Foundation. The Fund is comprised of donations raised by our students and the LBSS community, and serves as the vehicle that students use to award grants which will assist Northern Virginia nonprofits. We are preparing our LBSS middle school students to be innovative and reflective leaders, and participatory citizens!”

THE LOUISE LIGHTNER JAMISON SCHOLARSHIP FUND

The Louise Lightner Jamison Scholarship Fund was established in 2017 to provide scholarships to benefit high school seniors residing in Prince William County that will advance their education through the pursuit of an undergraduate degree in the field of education.

“Louise Lightner Jamison was a multitasking woman. Her love, strength, and positive spirit made this world a better place. Louise was a dedicated teacher in Haymarket, Virginia. She loved teaching young children in first grade and then after retirement from public school, began the 4R’s preschool. Her last wishes were to encourage others to share her joy of teaching by offering funds to begin their higher learning in the field of education.”

SUPPORT THE COMMUNITY
FOUNDATION FOR NORTHERN VIRGINIA

Our donors want results. They want measurable returns on their philanthropic investments. They want to give like it matters, like it will make an actual difference. And they count on us to help them.

At the Community Foundation for Northern Virginia, we have the knowledge, insight and networks to transform a mere gift of charitable dollars into real impact on real lives. We enhance our donors' philanthropy with research and hard work that helps create something meaningful and support something worthy.

your philanthropy, your way

There are many ways to realize your personal philanthropic goals through the Community Foundation.

Open a DONOR FUND to make grants to organizations you care about. Join a GIVING CIRCLE with like-minded individuals to make a collective difference for neighbors in need. Make a difference here at home — support critical needs through the COMMUNITY INVESTMENT FUNDS grant cycle or help seed innovation with a gift to the INNOVATION FUND. And give to the PERMANENT FUND to leave a lasting legacy of giving that will help shape the future of the region.

DONOR BEATRIZ MCNELLY

“Getting involved with the Community Foundation was very easy for me because it met all my checklists. I wanted to be involved in something that would benefit those around me, specifically women, and I wanted to be personally involved in the giving process. My estate attorney, Catherine, F. Schott Murray, introduced me to the organization, and I grew to trust what the Community Foundation had to offer me. After I opened a donor advised fund, I quickly learned about the Business Women’s Giving Circle and joined other women who work tirelessly to help young women and young girls succeed. I also became involved in the Latino Engagement and Achievement Fund to support the local Latino community, something I had been thinking about based on the environment that we live in. I wanted to engage in the Gala committee to help raise more money and encourage others to give. The Community Foundation has made it easy to get involved. It has given me a platform to accomplish my philanthropic goals. I know that by combining my resources with others in the community, we can accomplish wonderful things.”
